Y.C.C. VISITS CHADBOURNE'S MILL—Carolyn Holden, daughter of P. H. Chadbourne, leads a discussion about the wood cutting business with two crews from the Youth Conservation Corps Camp. A very important ingredient of the YCC program is exposure to environmental education. Emphasis is placed on the proper use of the forest lands of the White Mountain National Forest and how, in return, the forest lands can be beneficial to man. Certainly the tour through the P. H. Chadbourne and Co. mill will help in reaching one of the many goals of the YCC Program.

ART EXHIBITION PLANNED ON BETHEL COMMON IN AUGUST

An exhibition of local artists is being planned for one and possibly two Saturdays in August, dates are August 12 and 19 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. The exhibition is open to practically any form of graphic art including oils, watercolors, pastels, ink sketches, silk-screen prints, air brush and photography. Work should be titled and priced if for sale.

Pending receipt of final approval from the Town of Bethel, the exhibition layout is planned to face Broad Street and cover the area from the Bethel Library to the Moses Mason House, and, if enough artists are interested, displays along the walkways could be set up.

All local artists interested in exhibiting are invited. There is no fee and it is planned to have a snow fence available for work to be exhibited. Those who have already indicated an interest in this show are Helen Morton, Sue Bennett, Joyce Hathaway and Don Wright. Others who are interested should contact those listed so that the size of the exhibit area can be determined.

Think about this for a minute. You're looking for carpet for that special nook, you come here and find "it". Then you look at the price tag—it's much less than what your friend paid for hers. Do you think hers is better quality? Are you tempted to go elsewhere? You're doing exactly what the "ad-men" and some dealers want you to do. They assume you think that way and price their goods accordingly. Carpeting does not have to be high-priced to be good. Aren't you tired of being "taken"? We're tired of it. Come help us fight inflation.

At the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society to be held Thursday, Aug. 3, at 7 p. m., at the Moses Mason House meeting room a program on Bethel cemeteries will be featured. Congressmen are buried: Dr. Moses Mason and David Hammond, Riverside in Mayville which holds the grave of Rev. Eliphaz Chapman who suggested the name for the town; Grover Hill at the Steam Mill where many Revolutionary War veterans lie. Other cemeteries to be discussed include Flat Road and Pine Grove in West Bethel, Middle Intervale and East Bethel, plus some of the smaller ones: Bartlett, Chandler Hill and Bird Hill. The town also has at least two family cemeteries on the East Bethel Road, Abbott and Stanley.

A film "The Stone Whistle" will also be shown which focuses on the need to be remembered through appropriate monuments. Everyone is welcome to attend. Refreshments will follow the program.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Board of Selectmen met in special session Thursday, July 20, for a public hearing on the application of Lois E. Wehmeyer d/b/a Campeau House for a Class A Restaurant Liquor License. Mrs. Wehmeyer proposes to open a restaurant in the former Dr. Young house on Broad Street.

Mrs. Wehmeyer stated that it would be a French gourmet restaurant and that there would be no bar. She indicated that there would be about 10 tables with seating for about 40 people and that hours would be from 4-10 p. m. It was also indicated that no changes would be made to the exterior of the building, but that some landscaping changes would be made. Mrs. Wehmeyer also stated that the present driveway and parking area would be sufficient for patrons.

Approximately 15 citizens attended the hearing, with individuals speaking both for and against the license. Several people stated that there was a need for this type of restaurant in Bethel. Individuals speaking against, cited noise and traffic as potential problems and they also questioned the need for another restaurant in Bethel.

The Board postponed action on the application until Monday evening, Aug. 7, when a second public hearing will be held at 7 p. m. The Board of Assessors met Wednesday evening, July 26, and the Selectmen will meet with the Planning Board to discuss various items after consideration of the liquor license for the Campeau House on Monday, Aug. 7.

BUSINESS AND POLITICS AT AUGUST C. OF C. MEETING

Business and politics will mix at the Greater Bethel Chamber of Commerce meeting to be held Thursday, August 10, if those members attend who have already expressed concern on some local key issues affecting local business. State Representative Karen Brown will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting scheduled for 7 p. m. at the Bethel Spa Restaurant. Rep. Brown's talk will cover the ban on outdoor advertising and is expected to answer questions on the ban's local impact. Rep. Brown is also aware of the Chamber's efforts to develop useful information on public transportation and what favorable Public Utilities Commissions actions can mean to Bethel area residents.

According to Chamber President Don Bennett, other issues are likely to come up in the discussion period which will follow Brown's talk. For instance two local innkeepers have exclaimed over the way state liquor store operations and pricing cut into their efforts to satisfy customers. One felt very strongly that it was inconsistent for Maine to promote tourism on the one hand and then on the other force his guests to drive over 60 miles to New Hampshire because the only nearby liquor stores were closed. Another feels that his lounge is not fully competitive with New Hampshire resorts and that his prices are too high in general because of the cost of his supplies.

The maintenance of Route 26 is another issue of concern to area businesses catering to tourists and vacationers, the Chamber president continued. Some business poor condition of this state highway from Gray to its junction with U. S. Route 2 in Bethel has detoured tourist traffic into New Hampshire on Routes 302 and 16. The condition of Route 26 is also believed to be a factor in southbound traffic, choosing route 16 over route 23 through Oxford County. Since the Bethel area has a strong winter as well as summer recreation base, route 26 should receive better maintenance, be freed of restrictions and made as scenic as possible.

To allow for full discussion on these and other issues, members are urged to attend and speak up on areas of concern to their respective business activities. The meeting will be open to candidates for local and state office. Reservations should be made directly to the Spa Restaurant, telephone 824-2810, as early as possible.

This deadline does not apply to those employers who make timely deposits of the full amount of tax due in Federal Reserve or approved Commercial banks. They are allowed until August 10, 1978 to file Form 941, "Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return."

If employers have not received Form 941 by mail, they can obtain one from local IRS offices. IRS Publication 15, "Circular E—Employer's Tax Guide," is also available at local offices.

The Republican Party of Maine has adopted a state-wide budget of $147,000, and Oxford County's share is $10,000, collected from the various towns. The money is raised to help national, state, and county candidates in 1978, and to maintain headquarters in Augusta, for building and debt retirement.

Salaries of staff such as executive secretary and two other secretaries to answer telephones and take care of correspondence problems for Maine citizens regardless of their political affiliations. The Oxford County GOP Committee will share in the expense of the various candidates, and will also maintain various offices for telephone services for a month before election day, staff by volunteer workers.

Corporation donations for State and Local candidates can now legally be accepted. Help is needed to contract for choice time on TV and radio. Most important are the daily and weekly newspapers that will be used extensively in the 1978 election. In order to save postage, travel and telephone expense, please mail checks to the local Finance Chairman or direct to N. K. Ferguson, Oxford County Republican Finance Chairman, Box 38, Hanover, Me. 04237. Please mail all checks payable to Oxford County Republican Finance Fund. Contributions will be credited to the town from which they are received.

The Impact of External Appeal
The external appearance of your home has an important impact on potential buyers. You will never get a prospect interested unless he stops to look. Don't rely on the inside of your home "selling" it. Your prospect may be "turned off" before he reaches the front door. So look at the exterior with a critical eye.
Give the house a fresh coat of paint if needed. Replace any broken or cracked windows. Replace loose shingles. Fix the fence. Keep the lawn mowed and the shrubs trimmed to give your house that "well-cared-for" look. Make sure your screen or storm door is in top shape and your wooden door is inviting with a fresh coat of paint or varnish. It is not uncommon to see a hundred dollars worth of improvements and some elbow grease increase the value of a house over a thousand dollars.

Put your self in the buyer's shoes. He is looking for charm, comfort, location and a bargain. Give him the best show for the money.
If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at EARLY REAL ESTATE, 60 Main St., Bethel, Phone: 824-2122, 824-2578. We're here to help!

Two Bethel People on Publicity Bureau Board of Directors
Representative Karen L. Brown and Louise Lincoln, both of Bethel, were among 23 new directors elected recently at the annual meeting of the Maine Publicity Bureau.

They will represent Oxford County on the governing board of the private, non-profit organization charged by the Legislature to aggressively promote tourism in Maine. MPB board chairman Ben F. Pike of Jay, has announced.

Other officers elected included: Pike, Peter M. Damborg, Winthrop, president; John G. Morse, Jr., Bethel, vice-chairman of the board; Dexter R. Hunneman, Jr., Cape Elizabeth, treasurer; Gustave H. Tillman, Jr., Portland, assistant treasurer; Larry E. Simpson, Sebago Lake, immediate past chairman of the board and former executive director William Hatch, secretary.

The first order of business for the new officers and board will be a $400,000 fund raising project to be chaired by Bangor businessman Stanley J. Leen, Jr., Pike said.

The "Dollar for Dollar" effort is the result of legislation that made $400,000 available from general funds, if matched by private funds, to re-establish a Maine vacation-travel promotion program.

Local candidates can now legally be accepted. Help is needed to contract for choice time on TV and radio. TWO BETHEL PEOPLE ON PUBLICITY BUREAU BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Representative Karen L. Brown and Louise Lincoln, both of Bethel, were among 23 new directors elected recently at the annual meeting of the Maine Publicity Bureau.

They will represent Oxford County on the governing board of the private, non-profit organization charged by the Legislature to aggressively promote tourism in Maine. MPB board chairman Ben F. Pike of Jay, has announced.

Other officers elected included: Pike; Peter M. Damborg, Winthrop, president; John G. Morse, Jr., Bath, vice-chairman of the board; Dexter R. Hunneman, Jr., Cape Elizabeth, treasurer; Gustave H. Tilman, Jr., Portland, assistant treasurer; Larry E. Simpson, Sebago Lake, immediate past chairman of the board and former executive director William Hatch, secretary.

The first order of business for the new officers and board will be a $400,000 fund raising project to be chaired by Bangor businessman Stanley J. Leen, Jr., Pike said.

The "Dollar for Dollar" effort is the result of legislation that made $400,000 available from general funds, if matched by private funds, to re-establish a Maine vacation-travel promotion program.

Local candidates can now legally be accepted. Help is needed to contract for choice time on TV and radio. Most important are the daily and weekly newspapers that will be used extensively in the 1978 election. In order to save postage, travel and telephone expense, please mail checks to the local Finance Chairman or direct to N. K. Ferguson, Oxford County Rep. Finance Chairman, Box 38, Hanover, Me. 04237. Please mail all checks payable to Oxford County Republican Finance Fund. Contributions will be credited to the town from which they are received.

The Impact of External Appeal

The external appearance of your home has an important impact on potential buyers. You will never get a prospect interested unless he stops to look. Don't rely on the inside of your home "selling" it. Your prospect may be "turned off" before he reaches the front door. So look at the exterior with a critical eye.

Give the house a fresh coat of paint if needed. Replace any broken or cracked windows. Replace loose shingles. Fix the fence. Keep the lawn mowed and the shrubs trimmed to give your house that "well-cared-for" look. Make sure your screen or storm door is in top shape and your wooden door is inviting with a fresh coat of paint or varnish. It is not uncommon to see a hundred dollars worth of improvements and some elbow grease increase the value of a house over a thousand dollars.

Put your self in the buyer's shoes. He is looking for charm, comfort, location and a bargain. Give him the best show for the money.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at EARLY REAL ESTATE, 60 Main St., Bethel. Phone: 824-2122, 824-2379. We're here to help!

BETHEL'S BROAD STREET

Bethel's Broad Street was named as a national historic district and placed on the National Register of Historic Places last December. The District includes all structures along Broad Street plus those surrounding the common. It was selected since it contains a diverse range of significant architectural features and is considered an important part of the nation's historic and cultural resources.

The street began as part of the route to Norway from Bethel Hill. In 1807, it was formally accepted as a town way and considerably widened, hence the origin of its name, to enhance the training of militia.

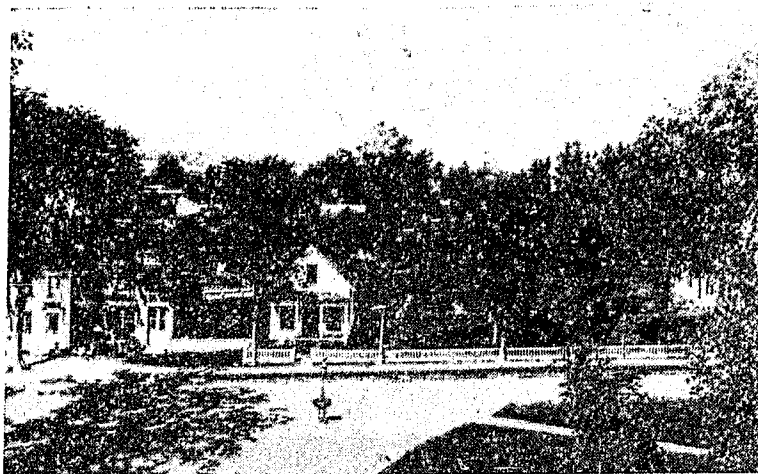

To the northwest side of the street lies the Bethel Common originally the gift of Eleazar Twitchell, the first settler of what is now Bethel village. The Common has been used for many purposes, including the location where Dr. Nathaniel True drilled the Bethel Zouaves during the Civil War. Various celebrations and commemorations have been held here including the Centennial Celebration of the 1781 Indian Raid, the Bicentennial Celebration of 1976 and the annual Mollycoddle Day.

No building survives from the earliest days of the street's history. Time and fires have exacted their toll. The oldest surviving structure is the Dr. Moses Mason House built in 1813, believed to be the first painted white and built on a foundation. The former Wright cottage (now the Chadbourne home) is the most recently constructed residence (1908), but the Bethel Inn (1913) and Fire Station building (1965) appeared later. Most of the buildings on the street, however, were constructed in the middle of the nineteenth century, reflecting the prevailing Greek Revival style of that period.

Among other credits, the street has been home to two United States Congressmen (Dr. Mason and David Hammons) and a Justice of the Maine Supreme Judicial Court. In addition, it has attracted a large number of famous visitors including Jane Addams of Hull House.

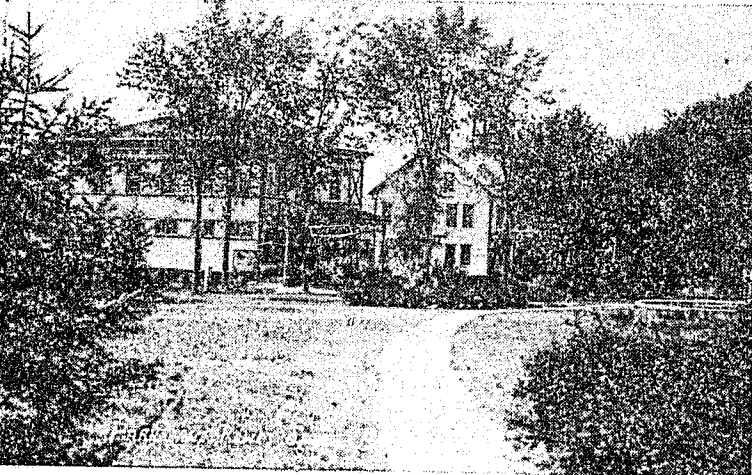

Undoubtedly the "golden era" was that period when the Gehring Clinic attracted some of the most wealthy and brilliant people in the northeast, particularly from New York society and Harvard University circles. But for lovers of Bethel's past there have been other eras of interest including the days when the Doctors Mason and True were among the leading figures of the region.

WATER CONSERVATION NEEDED IN MANY NEW ENGLAND AREAS

Strong conservation measures must be adopted and enforced in many areas of New England if water shortages are to be avoided, according to the Regional Office of the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency.

In a new publication called "Water Conservation in New England—It Begins at Home," EPA notes that many parts of New England could suffer serious shortages of clean water by 1990 unless something is done.

Paul Keough, Director of EPA's Regional Office of Public Awareness which produced the booklet, explained that the principal reasons for projected shortages are increasing population, various areas with only marginal supplies in sources of supply; the spiralling rate of water consumption in all parts of New England; waste in areas such as Boston where delivery systems are old and leak badly; and the lack of planning for new sources.

"All of these conditions add up to a classic supply and demand problem," Mr. Keough added. "The most cost effective way to deal with this is to develop and carry through a wide range of conservation programs involving communities, business, and industry, and individual homeowners as well, before a serious problem develops."

"We believe that water conservation begins in the home since residential uses account for about 40% of all water use in most areas of New England. Clearly, then, conservation measures adopted by individual households can go a long way to solving the area's overall water shortage problem."

The EPA official noted that one reason residential conservation measures are so promising is that they are inexpensive and require little or no inconvenience to family members. In fact, they can result in savings of up to several hundred dollars a year on water bills and energy costs, and this does not take into account longer range savings in the form of lower costs that would occur if municipal water supplies are adequate to serve all community needs.

The booklet which is available free of charge from the EPA (Room 2203, JFK Federal Building, Boston, 02203) contains a checklist of things a consumer of water can do to save both water and money.

BETHEL HISTORICAL SOCIETY

TO HOLD LECTURE SERIES BEGINNING AUG. 2

A lecture series will be held each Wednesday afternoon at four in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House during the month of August. The schedule is as follows: Aug. 2, John B. Head, "Origins of the Postage Stamp and Local Postal History"; Aug. 9, Randall H. Bennett, "Ketchum: An Historical Investigation"; Aug. 16, Starr Seguin, "Advertising Tin"; Aug. 23, Elmira Doyen, "Dolls as Collectibles"; Aug. 30, E. M. Quinn "Highlights of Grand Trunk Railroad History."

Refreshments will be served and anyone interested is cordially invited to attend this free series.

NEW ENGLAND PHOTOS EXHIBIT AT SAVINGS BANK

A selection of photos, many depicting scenes in Newry and the "Ketchum" area are now on display in the lobby of the Bethel Savings Bank as part of a history outreach program sponsored by the Bethel Historical Society.

Continuing until mid-August, when it will move to the Bethel Public Library, the exhibit brings together many of the photographs from the collection of Martha Pi-field Wilkins, author of "Sunday River Sketches: A New England Chronicle." Some of the scenes are those appearing in her work on the Sunday River Valley, while others, like "The Falls-Bull Branch" and "Poplar Tavern, N. Newry, Me." have never been on public display. Most of the photographs were taken between 1904 and 1922 and depict life during this era.

The public is cordially invited to view these visual records of bygone times during banking hours.

OPENINGS

A. Telstar Middle School - Social Studies Teacher

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

Annie Mills, Shapleigh, who spent last week with her cousins, Ina Smith and Lula Newell, at the latter's camp on South Pond, spent Sunday night with us before returning home on Monday.

Doris Hayes entertained a group of teachers at her home for dinner and the afternoon on Thursday.

On Wednesday I went to Edith Shrader's cottage on Norway Lake for a picnic lunch.

Pay Holt attended the Art Exhibit at Norway on Saturday.

Glenn Hayes and family, Gray, took their mother and father, Doris and Rolly Hayes, to Two Lights on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morris were at their camp on Aizoscoos Lake last week.

Del and Betty Hayes, Auburn, Glenn and Rachel Hayes and boys were at the Hayes Homestead on Saturday.

It's cooler this Monday morning so it will seem easier to pick peas, beans, and berries.

Since last writing, I have done many things; hiking, boating, berrying. There have been hot, humid days as well as cool breezy ones.

One early evening, a July thunderstorm raged through. It started with a frowning sky, high humidity, and finally the heavens really became angry. The first spears of lightning were flung to the earth and the thunder roared.

There were black clouds, gusts of wind, and much needed rain, a deluge for a very short time. The drops hitting the roof turned it into a drum. However we were lucky for there was no hail or damage as in some places.

A cool day came when the morning was clear. A west wind was pulling at the weeds and grasses just persuasively enough to rustle them. The faint glow of the sun turned the water in front of the cabin to the color of a wild rose.

A swallow swooped over it solitary and silent. As I watched from the breakfast table, I thought of the strawberries which had to be picked and what a nice day to do it in.

Later, Ruth and I left to go to the Middle Road but had decided on no definite destination.

The sky was an intense blue with a few clouds, lofty, and streaming lazily, moved by a balmy breeze.

The road was rough and traveled only by trail vehicles.

As we proceeded along we knew when to expect the roadbumps, the muddy spots, straight stretches, bridges, and bogs for we had come this way in years past.

Near the first small bridge the grasses on either side were shoulder high and parted in the middle as if combed, and put into place. Every spear rippled and nodded as we passed by.

Our nostrils caught the smell of the brook, which looked refreshing but not vigorous.

Roadsides and fields were well decorated with flowers.

"The blue-eyed grass! I sometimes wonder why So few have sung its well merited praise.

They neighbored me in far-off barefoot days.

These bits of blue dropped from the cloudless sky."

Frank P. Fletcher

When coming to the base of Rowe Hill, we turned left toward Twitchell Pond. The road here was smooth and well traveled much of the way. The widely spaced trees gave an aspect of a park. Huge boulders, moss and fern covered occupied their places, enjoying the shade.

A conifer-perfumed breeze came

West Bethel

— Mrs. Lona Gilbert, Corres. —

Monday morning temp. 62° and some clouds. Quite a change in the weather since the week end.

Sunday a thunder shower and a little rain in the area. The cooler air moved in following the shower.

If any one has any articles, or food for the Food and Yard Sale which will be held on Friday, July 28, 1 to 4 p. m., benefit of West Bethel Chapel Aid, they may be left with Mrs. Olive Head.

Miss Robin Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Snyder new address is P.O. Box 107, P.O. Box 66-8001, 107 P.O. Box, P.O. Box 18th PTABN, Ft. Bragg, N. C. 28307

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mason (Ann) extend their sympathy to Mrs. on the recent death of her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Grant of Yarmouth, also to Mr. Grant and family and all other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Frances Bennett is improving and is expected to be moved from the Maine Medical Center to the Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway, this week.

There was a misprint in last week's paper on where Dr. and Mrs. O'Neil Robertson were from. It should have been Ford City, Pa., not Port City, Pa. They were guests of his aunt, Mrs. Libbie Kneeland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Calnan, Dawn and friend of Billerica, Mass. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Head Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Piper and two children of Dixfield were supper guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Roberts. Friday Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bumpus of Farmington were visitors at the Roberts home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker of South Portland were in town Sunday to visit relatives. They were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gilbert Sunday night. Other guests attending the supper were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Head, Jane and Marietta, and Arthur Gilbert's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilbert and children of South Paris were callers, also Mr. and Mrs. Randall Gilbert.

Marietta Head left Sunday night to spend a few days with Andrea Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilbert, South Paris.

Mrs. Claire Cook, Neil and Robin, of N. Fort Myers, Fla., were callers at Alanson Cummings, the 17th.

Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Cummings and daughter, Cathryn Lovejoy, were in South Paris Wednesday and again Thursday for Mrs. Cummings' driver's test, which she passed. They also visited at the edgeview Home, West Paris, with Joe Barrett and Hermon Cummings.

Saturday, P. M., Cathryn Lovejoy and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Cummings attended visiting hours for Rev. Felix Mayblom at Andrews' funeral parlor. Later they went to visit Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilbert.

Later, Ruth and I left to go to the Middle Road but had decided on no definite destination.

The sky was an intense blue with a few clouds, lofty, and streaming lazily, moved by a balmy breeze.

The road was rough and traveled only by trail vehicles.

As we proceeded along we knew when to expect the roadbumps, the muddy spots, straight stretches, bridges, and bogs for we had come this way in years past.

Near the first small bridge the grasses on either side were shoulder high and parted in the middle as if combed, and put into place. Every spear rippled and nodded as we passed by.

Our nostrils caught the smell of the brook, which looked refreshing but not vigorous.

Roadsides and fields were well decorated with flowers.

"The blue-eyed grass! I sometimes wonder why So few have sung its well merited praise.

They neighbored me in far-off barefoot days.

These bits of blue dropped from the cloudless sky."

Frank P. Fletcher

When coming to the base of Rowe Hill, we turned left toward Twitchell Pond. The road here was smooth and well traveled much of the way. The widely spaced trees gave an aspect of a park. Huge boulders, moss and fern covered occupied their places, enjoying the shade.

A conifer-perfumed breeze came down the road to meet us.

Standing giganticly, a spruce whose top had captured the sun, shattered it and laid it on the ground at our feet, stood at the left.

In places it was merry with black-eyed Susans, laughing from every corner and keeping up a happy summer carnival in company with the milkweed and daisies. They seem to revel in long days of blazing sunlight and are veritable salamanders among the flowers.

When we reached the lake the water was of the densest blue but was soon ruffled by a passing boat. We sat for a short time only, because it was getting to be late afternoon.

Our trip back was nice, too, except for the miserable mosquitoes. When we reached the boggy area with its tall grasses, they whisked and buzzed around unrestrained. We carried a bush which we used continuously to drive them. They managed to take a sip now and then in spite of the our efforts. It was a nice trip just the same. We rode through a buttering of sunlight the rest of the way home.

It seems but yesterday that the peepers with their theme song of spring's urgency an exclamation quickened the heart. Today it's mid July with its heat and flowers. I can look out over the pond with its rippling reflections of sunlit waves; the curtains billow gently before a light breeze that brings a fresh, heady rain-washed potpourri of clover, mint, and roses into the room. These things have no price tags on them so they enjoy them.

There are days even in July which occur, when the world reaches perfection. This region still possesses a romantic beauty with forest clad hills and green valleys through which bright streams flow.

We, Fay, Ruth, and I, enjoyed such a day recently, as we took to the woods. We were searching for a special road, found one in the vicinity, but it turned out not to be the one for which we were seeking.

The hills were crowned with forest land. There were rich secluded spots hemmed in by giant trees, with their wild surroundings and primal silence.

We saw the sun's rays paint pictures of beauty on the three branched braken, or brake fern, as we used to call it. It's a sturdy fern with tall coarse stems, in the mingled sunlight and shadows blending together made an interesting picture. The braken doesn't have the laciness and delicate symmetry found in the hay-scented fern of the low, damp places. But braken is found among boulder studded hill sides as it is one of the humble plants that help cover the land.

We crossed a field where the blueberries were beginning to ripen. Everywhere we stepped there was the hopping and clack-clacking of the short horned grasshopper. He brought to mind a poem of childhood days.

"Down in the field on Grandpa's farm,
A friendly grasshopper hopped
on my sleeve;
And when he saw that I meant
no harm
He showed me things that were hard to believe:
Two compound eyes and three eyes more;
And under his wings, safe covered o'er,
He showed me where his ears
are hid,
And then a drooler thing he did:
He spat "tobacco" on my arm
And hopped away—on Grandpa's farm."

We used to capture them, interested in their compound eyes, their "tobacco" juice and the little round disks on each side of the back, close to where the wing begins. Each disk is an "ear". The tiny openings in a row along each side are for letting fresh air into its body.

We went from the upper edge of this field above the house into a road that led among spruces. The sun brought out fragrance of the pitchy bark, and the shade was pleasant as we climbed a hill.

Deeper in the forest we went, not sure where we were going but when we decided that we were on the wrong road we turned back.

The dark trees whispered together their messages that were not for our knowledge. Some were spruce and some were pine where little can grow in the thick mat of fallen needles. They filled the long hollows between the hills like a dark river. They tapered perfectly, finished at every point, clean, dry, and resinous. Their fragrance was again brought to us by the crystal air.

We had enjoyed the journey but felt defeated that we had not found the old county road that we once knew.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my relatives, neighbors, friends, the American Legion and Auxiliary for their cards and get well messages while I was in the hospital. Also special thanks to the Eastern Star for the beautiful fruit basket. Again thanks to all.

Am I glad that I live in the country. When it gets warmish, I can sit on the top step of the cellar stairs and read and be comfortable but don't like to read by a flashlight. The man in the almanac once said that if it rained on St. Swithin's day, it would rain for 40 days. It was a short 40 days this year. Good weather for African Violets.

A Nutrition Class, was held at the Community Hall on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The children enjoyed it.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tripp came Wednesday and moved their furnishings to Lewiston.

Albert and Amy Downing, Eveline Barrett, Joe and Laura Kalinowski called at Lawrences, also Kimball and granddaughter, Cheryl Ridlon were in Rumford on business one day this week.

Mrs. Dottie Adams and Erin and Mrs. Ethel Bean, Sarah and Amber were recent visitors of their mother, Mrs. Alice Kimball. Mr. and Mrs. James Wike of Gardiner also visited one day last week.

It looked as if every cottage around the pond was occupied this week or week end.

I do not appreciate the large dog running loose at night, damaging the garden and messing the lawn and driveway.

Live, while you've got life to Love while you've got love to give.

KIMBALL FAMILY ASSOCIATION TO HOLD 10th REUNION

The National Kimball Family Association is holding its Tenth Reunion at Wolfboro, N. H., the week end of Aug. 18. Co-chairpersons: the Gordon S. Kimballs, Wolfboro Falls, announce that many reservations are being received from all parts of the U. S. and also Canada, with nearly 100 reservations for the chicken barbecue dinner and moonlight cruise on board the Mt. Washington, cruising Lake Winnepesaukee, Friday evening.

Registration starts Aug. 18 at 3 p. m. at the Masonic Temple, Wolfboro, where all Saturday activities will be held, including the annual business meeting, election of officers, roast beef noon dinner, and square dance in the evening. On Sunday church services for the many Kimball cousins will be held at the First Baptist Church at 10:45. (Kimballs are from all denominations.)

The Association incorporated in 1972 for the purpose of recording and documenting and updating the history of the Kimball Family in America, admits to membership any person who bears relationship by blood, adoption, marriage or adoption to Richard Kimball (Gatlesden, England) resident of Ipswich, Mass., 1837, to his death in 1876.

Anyone with the specified relationship is welcomed at the reunion, where Kimball cousins can become acquainted from the lines established by Richard's children. The first reunion held in 1968 at Bridgton Academy, North Bridgton, Maine, was organized by Elizabeth Mason Carter, West Bethel, Maine (whose paternal lines include a Kimball grandmother and great great great grandmother) and her three co-founders, natives of North Bridgton: Mrs. Elizabeth Kimball Watkins, Manchester, N. H., Mrs. Gladys K. Chapman, Harrison (deceased now), and Mrs. Myra Weeman, Hiram (also now deceased). They were assisted by a small group of Maine Kimball cousins: Mrs. Estella Kimball Martin, and Mrs. Mary Champe, Rumford; Mrs. Faye Taylor, Bethel, and the Ober Kimballs, South Waterford.

Kimballs from 16 states attended that first reunion. Bridgton's first settler was Capt. Benjamin Kimball and the incorporators, trustees and students of Bridgton Academy have included many Kimballs.

Reunions since then have been held at the Academy in 1970, 1971 and 1976; at Concord, N. H., '72; Gilford, N. H., '73; Ipswich, Mass., '74; Sturbridge, Mass., '75, and Bradford College, Bradford, Mass., '77.

Membership of the Association is now about 600 from 37 states, Canada and the Virgin Islands. Many of Richard Kimball's descendants moved into New Hampshire and a number of these were in the Wolfboro area. The reunion chairman and his wife held the presidency in 1975. A late trustee of Brewster Academy at Wolfboro was president of the Kimball Family Association 1970-71 — Robert Kimball of Hampton, then vice president of Bentley College. Herbert E. Kimball of Rochester, N. H., retired business manager of the U. of N. H., key noted the first reunion, is still very active in this Association of which the current

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST Social Security

Some 40 years ago the peoples of the United States decided to establish a financial system of security to provide, in our later years, an income when our earning power is reduced; as a supplement toward retirement—an assurance, to some extent, for our material needs.

As age creeps up on us, along with social security, there comes a realization that money, food, clothing and even family is not everything. Often our minds are in a quest or search for answers that elude us. There is a perplexity, maybe "there is something else," —if I could only resolve what is it all about? "What about our Nation's motto? 'In God We Trust'—am I trusting in Him?—He promises a more and an abundant life—what? more life now? or later on? Is there an existence beyond the grave? Questions!

Is church the answer? I have gone to church—enjoy its music—the solemnity leaves me satisfied for awhile—its activities keep me quiet me. The words in I John 5:12 say "He that hath the Son hath life." Can I have a meaningful life now and in eternity? as it says in Phil. 3:21 "—that our bodies may be fashioned like unto His glorious body—? and live forever in His presence with joy and a complete happiness—but, what about the second part of I John 5:12 "—and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life? Well, then, the opposite to living with God is a "fearful hell—the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone"—Rev. 21:8.

Let's make our choice now and not wait any longer—for that would be as unto foolishness—our real security is as God says in Romans 10:9 "That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shall believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." 10. "For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation."

Ephesians 2: 4-5 "But God who is rich in mercy, for His great love, wherewith He loved us, even when we were dead in our sins, has quickened us together with Christ (for by grace are ye saved) and hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus."

There is our security! We can sing that old hymn from our heart "Blessed assurance, Jesus is mine—oh what a foretaste of glory divine."

Once again a permit for trapping on the Evans Notch Ranger District, White Mountain National Forest may be obtained through the District Ranger's Office in Bethel. As last year, issuance of permits for specific trapping units will be handled through a drawing system. This year the drawing is to be held at the Bethel Ranger Station on Friday, Aug. 4.

While no charge is required to participate in the drawing, applicants must apply on the formal application form indicating name, address, current state trapping license for the State of Maine or New Hampshire, and preference of first three chances of trapping units. Application forms are available at the Bethel office and must be returned prior to the Aug. 4 drawing.

All trapping on the White Mountain National Forest must be done on a permit basis only and is subject to all appropriate state laws.

In addition to state laws, the following restrictions will apply for this trapping season:

1. No commercial trapping will be permitted within the Wild River trapping unit this season except for beaver trapping. Reintroduction of the Pine Marten into the Wild River area has been undertaken and in order to protect the animals released in the area, only water sets will be allowed.

2. No trapping of Bobcat or Fisher, is permitted on National Forest land in the State of New Hampshire. No trapping of Beaver, Bobcat, Pine Marten, or Fisher, is permitted on National Forest land within the State of Maine.

3. A declaration of trapping success indicating species and number of animals trapped must be filed with the District Ranger at the end of the season.

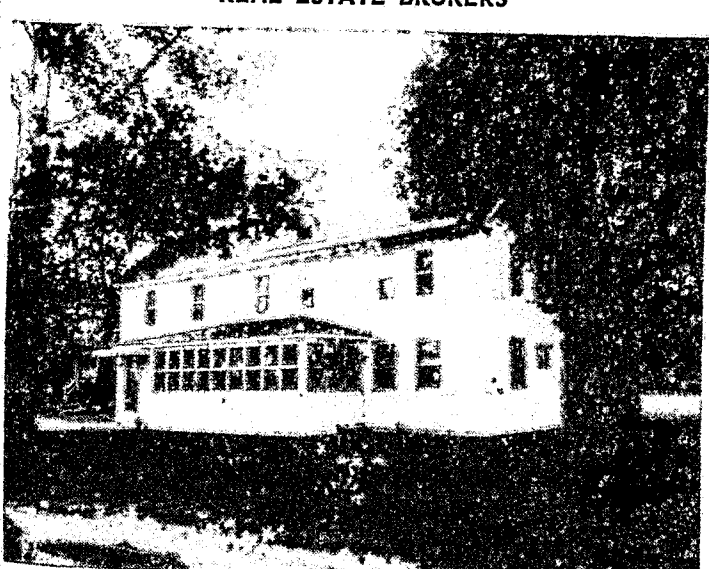

Further information may be obtained at the Ranger Station, Bridge Street, Bethel, Maine.

Home If it isn't the look of the garden, Nor the size of the house; We may be as rich as a monarch, Or as poor as a tiny church mouse. Our roof may be humble with thatching, Or noble with turret and dome. But it's only the loving hearts in it.

That can turn a house into a home.

Sunday afternoon Mother Nature played one of her worse tricks in Andover. She gave us a downpour followed by hailstones and gale force winds. It uprooted trees across power lines, overturned screen houses and dog houses, filled two swimming pools with pine cones and needles, whipped leaves and branches all over the road. It was a wild 10 or 15 minutes, all accompanied by thunder and lightning. On our street power was out from 3 p. m. to 3:30 a. m. After she had raised havoc the sun came out bright and hot again.

Mrs. Orville Meisner and daughter, Diane, motored to Garfield, N. J., to get Mr. Meisner's sister, Mrs. Sylvia Witham. She is visiting friends and relatives in East Andover for two weeks.

There have been quite a few people going to "White Cap Mountain". Some to check for blueberries and others for the hike and the view.

The thundershower of Sunday P. M. and the wild wind did slight damage to the gardens, but what a relief from the scorching weather of the past few days.

Bear River Grange met Saturday night with several problem of officers. Literary program consisted of game playing with prizes. Refreshments were served. Abbie poured!

The gardens all need a drink but we don't like the thunder and its company.

WILDERNESS — HOW MUCH IS ENOUGH?

The Forest Service and its many public have been wrestling with that question since the first wilderness area was designated back in 1924. Since that time 15.7 million acres have been included in the National Wilderness Preservation System, with 88% of that total being on National Forests. Today there is still a substantial acreage of roadless and relatively undeveloped land, for which future management plans need to be developed.

National Forest System lands have possible choices of uses including wildlife, dispersed recreation, campgrounds, wilderness, timber harvesting, mining, ski areas, etc. Any of the areas could be managed for a single use or for a combination of these and other uses. Some people would opt for nearly all roadless areas being included in the wilderness system, while other people favor multiple uses of the Forest to meet the growing national needs for lumber, developed recreation, minerals, etc.

To settle the debate as quickly as possible a process known as RARE II is in progress. RARE is an acronym for Roadless Area Review and Evaluation. The purpose of this review is to identify the roadless areas and determine which ones should be recommended for wilderness designation, which ones should receive further study, and which ones should be managed for multiple uses other than wilderness.

Nationwide this study encompasses 66 million acres with approximately 262,000 acres in 13 areas occurring on the White Mountain National Forest. Of immediate concern to this area would be the Wild River Area. Approximately 46,000 acres is included in this study area.

The Evans Notch Ranger District now has the Draft Environmental Statement available for public review. All interested persons are urged to visit the Evans Notch Ranger District office and review the statement. Members of the District staff will be available to discuss the RARE II process.
